

Please consider leaving Indiana law as is concerning telephone solicitation. States should have the right to determine laws which protect its citizens. I really don't want to miss important calls, but really don't want to be interrupted during supper with my family or homework.